Accommodations have been arranged so that anything you may need while in Prague and Vienna is situated within walking distance via pedestrian streets, some of which are cobblestone. If additional transportation needs arise, your Adventure Guide can provide assistance.

When traveling in Austria and Czech Republic, it's best to avoid the roads and opt for the wonderfully punctual and ultra-efficient rail system. You can buy tickets at any of the numerous kiosks, most of which accept cash or credit and give information in many different languages. Helpful ticket sales people will give you a copy of your itinerary, which includes information like transfer stations, time of transfer and which car to enter.

Language

While the primary language in the Czech Republic is Czech and the primary language of Austria is German, most people from both countries speak some English. Your Adventure Guide can help you with any language barriers.

The most physically demanding activity is the ice cave excursion, which includes:

- 30-minute uphill walk
- 30-minute downhill walk
- Climbing and descending a total of 1,400 stairs within the ice cave itself

If Guests do not wish to participate in the ice cave tour, they can relax at the scheduled lunch location. However, this still entails a 30-minute uphill walk.

While most of the trip occurs at about 1,000 feet above sea level, the altitude at the ice cave is approximately 5,433 feet (1,656 meters) above sea level.

(PLEASE NOTE: This itinerary does require Guests to walk approximately 1-3 miles per day.)

What ages are appropriate for this adventure?

While we welcome children ages 4 and up on our Austria and Czech Republic trip, we recommend that children be at least 6 years old at the time of travel. This is based on several factors, such as flight time and jet lag, time zone differences in the destination, duration of the vacation, extended hours of daily activity programming, number of internal transports between experiences, potential for extreme temperatures in the summer months (and cold temperatures while inside the ice cave), and amount of physical activity (e.g., walking, stair climbing, and hiking). Because each child is different, call a Vacationista to discuss whether this is the right trip for your kids.

What types of meals are served on this Adventures by Disney Trip?

Typically, breakfast is served each morning in buffet style and offers a variety of dishes. Dinners and lunches usually include fish, meat, and pasta or rice entrées; vegetables and salad; and desserts and fruit. Some included meals on this trip are served buffet style while others offer a limited-choice menu. Given the nature of group travel, we regret that à la carte menu choices may not always be available. Children-friendly choices are available at all meals. Menu items are subject to change due to the availability and seasonality of foods. In order to allow you and your family time to enjoy meals by yourselves, there are a few meals that are not included in the itinerary. These meals have been planned in locations where you have many dining options available. If you have any questions or concerns about dining at any time during your vacation, your Adventure Guides will be happy to assist you.

Is alcohol included with meals?

Alcoholic beverages are typically not included with your scheduled meals. However, you may purchase them at your own expense.
